Term 4 Week 2 - Wednesday 14th October 2015

We are shaping up once again for a busy term with 63 student horses agisted at the EC it promises to be another exciting term.

It seems that everyone was very busy competing during the school holidays judging from the results that have been pouring in on our equestrian facebook page. They have been very successful.

NSW representative riders at this years Interschools National Championships included Lucy Ramsay, Siobhan O'Mara and Bronte Dagg who have all achieved exceptionally in their events. Lucy ended the competition as the winner of the Eva105 Eventing, Sibohan placed a very respectable 8th in the Eva95 event and Bronte Dagg was the reserve Champion Primary rider and a part of the winning NSW Show Riding team of four riders.

Grace Cleary and Jess Towns both represented their home states at the recent Pony Club National Show Jumping Championship with great results that included blue ribbon for both riders ending in an exciting finish with Graces Queensland team taking home the National team trophy.

The girls have been working hard this year with their horses and the competition results are certainly indicating that it is paying off. Check out posts on our Facebook page for Pony Club, eventing, show jumping, dressage, show riding, challenge and campdrafting. Visit NEGS Equestrian on facebook for all that is happening in our equestrian community. Thank you to families who have been supplying photos and items for the Equestrian Facebook page. If you have an item that you think might be suitable please email marketing@negs.nsw.edu.au

This weekend sees the last visit for this year by eventing specialist coach Sam Lyle who has been flying in all year on a monthly basis to conduct master classes for our riding community. Thank you Sam it has been a great year.

Coaches Camilla Dawson and Henry Newell-Hutton will be creating more fun and excitement again this term for the Equisport riders on Monday afternoons. Riders wishing to take part in this group training session each Monday should contact the equestrian centre office on (02) 6774 8717 or email equestrian.centre@negs.nsw.edu.au
