

NEGS CAMPDRAFT SQUAD

The NEGS Campdraft Squad is an exciting opportunity for motivated and committed riders to develop and improve their skills and train with industry professionals. Students have the opportunity to work with live cattle, refine skills during dry work and improve technical accuracy during mechanical cow sessions.

With a focus on horsemanship and the development of the athlete both in training and ultimately in competition, the program is geared allowing riders to make the transition into the industry seamless. From 2019 there is an exciting introduction of on site bison into the camp draft program, taking the training of our future athletes to another level.

Students taking part in the program have the opportunity of working with successful competitor and professional trainer in the industry, NEGS campdraft coach Gloria McCormack. Riders are also invited to request private lessons and horse schooling with Gloria.
